CCEB helps to mould Sarah's business

ARTIST Sarah Roche, right, based at the National Sculpture Factory on Albert Road, makes sculptures, drawings and paintings for exhibition and commission as well as illustration work, particularly with children's books. She also teaches drawing and facilitates workshops in the Glucksman Gallery. She is currently sculpting clay panels that will be cast into bronze for the doors of a chapel in Spain.

CORK City Enterprise Board (CCEB), supported by the Department of Enterprise Trade and Employment and the EU Commission, provides a range of advice, information and resources for business start-ups. In this regular series we highlight the success of firms helped by the CCEB.

Sarah has received mentoring support and an employment grant from the Cork City Enterprise Board (CCEB) as well as participating in a book-keeping course to help with material costing and keeping up-to-date with new technology, vital for an artist with a large quantity of digital visual documentation.

"The CCEB has been a great help, providing a mentor for me. It's been brilliant to have an outside perspective from someone who has a lot of experience with self-employed people."

"The CCEB provides a great service to small businesses and is staffed by an extremely helpful group of people," Sarah added.

"I would like to move into outdoor/public sculpture so that a variety of people from all walks of life would experience my work every day." Contact Sarah at suzroche@hotmail.com or at her website at www.sarahroche.typepad.com. Contact the CCEB at (021) 4961828 or e-mail ita@corkceb.ie.
